Minutes L. I. D. 398

The Council for Local Improvement District, No. 388, met in Alex on Thursday, the 30th September last, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

All the members of Council were present; B. F. Allison in the chair.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The Department advised that an Inspector would return in due course to make an audit of the district's books to date.

The question of survey in the S. E. 25-40-23-4, was discussed at considerable length by the Council, a resolution being moved that as the original road allowance between S. E. 25-40-23-4 and S. W. 30-40-4 being left open would form a cut-ditch (blind alley or trap) to the general public using the highways, that the survey around the west side of lake in said sec. 25, made prior to 1915 be allowed to stand as it was. Vote, for 3, against 3, resolution negatived.

Council resolved to borrow $100,000 from the Merchant's Bank for three months in order to pay off all accounts rendered and day labour on roads.

Summary of accounts passed for payment, viz:

Labour	$3279.42
Lumber	303.89
Nails	4.90
Tools	6.25
Secy-Treas.	139.50

SOUTHERN ALBERTA FARMER SEEKING GREENER PASTURES

W. B. Fulton, of Irvine, Alta., was registered at the Imperial hotel on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Mr. Fulton was here for the purpose of looking over the W. D. Cook farm, several miles east of Mirror, with a view to renting, providing suitable arrangements can be made with the present owner.

Mr. Fulton has farmed in Southern Alberta for about 12 years, and states that this is the first year that he has had a bumper crop. Notwithstanding this fact he has about decided to locate in a district where total crop failures are conspicuous by their absence, and for that reason is seeking a location in this section of Central Alberta. He was greatly pleased with the prospects here and will probably locate, if, as stated previously, arrangements agreeable to both parties can be entered into.

There is no better section of Alberta for mixed farming than the territory tributary to Mirror, and we predict a great influx of farmers in the very near future. There is plenty of room for all.

GRADING AND SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION UNDER WAY

The Village Council continue plans grading Fourth avenue between Lake and Robert streets, and probably a short distance south of the latter highway. There is quite a dip about the centre of the block and the fill-in would improve the avenue considerably. The grade has been staked out, but the work is held up on account of the scarcity of teams. It is to be hoped that the delay will be only a matter of a few days.

Sidewalk construction is also under way and the following streets have been mapped out as requiring improvements along that line: Along the west side of Fourth avenue, between Lake and Robert streets; on the south side of Lake street from Eighth to Tenth avenues; and south on the west side of Ninth avenue, from Lake to Arthur streets. The walks will be at six feet in width and should prove convenient to the people residing in the "suburbs" of the city.

LOCAL NEWS OF THE WEEK

H. C. MacDonach, a former Mirrorite, and E. and A. Black of Calgary, visited with Mr. and Mrs. James Brindle over the Thanksgiving holidays. They also enjoyed a shoot on Buffalo Lake.

Roy Hopkins has the distinction of shooting the first swan in this locality for some considerable time. The swans are never very plentiful at any time, and Mr. Hopkins had the enviable pleasure of bagging three very fine specimens last Monday morning. One of the swans measured six feet from tip to tip, and it is the intention of the aimed to have two of "feathered fowl" mounted.

Ed. Gouter, J. J. Cairns and W. Wetherill motored to Edmonton on Thursday of last week, on road business. They made the trip in the former's car.

Rev. M. W. Holdom is away this week attending a meeting of the arch-deaconry at Red Deer.

Mrs. (Rev.) M. W. Holdom is a visitor at Stettler this week. Pte. Fred. Esd, formerly of Cranbrook, B. C., and now a member of the 63rd Battalion band at Calgary, was a Thanksgiving day visitor with W. and Miss Doris Johnson.

It is reported that W. G. Ainsley, near Bashaw, lost a separator through fire last Monday night. Several stacks of grain were also destroyed.

K. R. Iverson is a business visitor at Wainwright this week.

A Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church on Sunday, October 17th.

FOR SALE—Folding buggy for baby. Apply at JOURNAL office.

We are pleased to see W. D. Cook able to get about again after a severe siege of sickness. We trust that he will exercise due care while convalescing.

Dr. Meyer was called to attend a Galician last Saturday, who was working for Ed. Bue low. The patient was suffering from a dislocated cartilage in the right knee, received while wrestling.

E. E. Hoegle, who has been at Canby, Sask., for some time, visited with his brother, E. A., at the Imperial hotel last week.

A new telephone has been added to the Mirror exchange, Chas. Estell being the new subscriber. His number is 9. D. M. Jewell's house will also be connected up within a week or two.

A judicial sale of farm lands is advertised in this issue, at the Imperial hotel, Mirror, on Tuesday, the 26th day of October. The land in question is the S. W. 1, sec. 10, twp. 41, rge 22, W. 4th mer. A. J. Frank, of Bashaw, will be the auctioneer.

Mrs. E. E. and Mrs. E. A. Hoegle were Calgary visitors last week.

St. Monica's Church harvest festival will be held on Sunday, October 24th.

H. Edgar will hold an auction sale of horses, machinery, household goods, &c., on Monday Nov. 8th, next.

Mrs. A. G. Holland leaves today (Friday) for a few weeks holiday with relatives in Calgary.

A budget of news from South Buffalo Lake appears in this issue. Our correspondent reports some good yields of wheat.

J. R. Allen, who resides near Mirror, is busy building a machine and grinding house, 16 x 20 feet, for Wallie Jack. The floor will be cement and the walls cement blocks. Mr. Allen has had 25 years' experience in the cement block-making business and should do an A 1 job.

DESCRIPTION OF HISTORIC SCENE PRECEDING DECLARATION OF WAR

AT WAR FOR AN HOUR WITHOUT KNOWING IT

Hall Cane Dramatically Describes the Tense Moments Through Which the British Ministers Passed, Before Hostilities

Against Germany Commenced

Hall Caine, the noted British author, one of the little company remembers something that everybody has hitherto

In a room in the prime minister's residence in Downing street, the prime minister himself and three principal members of the cabinet are waiting for the German ambassador to arrive from Germany at noon. The time for the reply expires at midnight. It is after midnight, and the German ambassador's "intimate proposals" the ministers cannot even yet allow themselves to discuss. The German ambassador has not yet broken his pledged word. She has not

There is more than an hour left. Even at the last moment the telephone lines are not cut. The British ambassador in Berlin will reach London in time to inform the British government. The windows are open to St. James' Park, which lies dark and silent as a desert. The streets are empty at this distance. The streets of London round about the official residence are empty enough, glowering with excitement.

We British people do not go in for solid massed surging, singing down the main streets, and filling the air with a line of our boulevards, but nevertheless, all hearts are beating high in the theatres, railway stations, railway trains, shops and homes. Everybody is shouting "Heil Hitler!" and Germany has got to say whether or not she is a perjurer and a thief."

Meanwhile, in this silent room overlooking the park, the time passes the dark air all over Europe. The four men are waiting for the telephone to ring, and not making a finger of the clock or the minutes. The world seems on tiptoe in waiting for the thunder stroke of fate. The ministers at length sit silent again. "Right," says the speaker, looking fixedly at the floor or ceiling.

Then through the awful stillness of the room and the park outside comes the deep boom of big Ben—boom—

One of our causes it is an awful thing to plunge the great empire into war for the sake of a few dollars. I have seen the face before the eyes of the ministers of the great powers of Europe, and I become almost unsupportable. I could not have borne to see a man go to war to save himself some days in the future, weakening in the middle of the next century after a river of blood has been spilt. "Did I do it?"

After all, the reply to the ultimatum was not a refusal, but the absence of a reply is equivalent to a declaration of war. Suddenly

One more movement until the last of the eleven dollars had gone overboard. I was not alone. I was surrounded by voters heavy with emotion, yet with a calmness that was almost comical. When the clock struck again, I saw the faces of the crowd. I was war for an hour without knowing it.

If I had done wrong in lifting the curtain on this private scene, I am sorry. I am sorry for the sake of the people, and I am sorry for the sake of the country, with an awful sense of responsibility. I am sorry for the sake of our responsible ministers dead and living, and I am sorry for the sake of our country.
